BETTER SAFE THAN SORRY!

The Nordschleife is not only the most beautiful tarmac anywhere between the North and South Poles – it also bears the nickname of „Green Hell“ – and rightly so: treacherous cambers, „blind corners“ and differing grip factors on the track make this course in the Eifel into a highly demanding challenge, especially for first-timers. Highly critical sections are signposted. And there's one other thing you should always remember: The Nordschleife is not a modern racetrack but rather the world's most beautiful country road without oncoming traffic: So always avoid risks!

WHAT TO DO IN THE EVENT OF AN ACCIDENT:

Under no circumstances should you turn around or reverse. It is prohibited to drive on in the event of an accident. Park the car safely at the side of the track. Set up your warning triangle. Warn the drivers behind you but do not put yourself at risk. Provide first aid to casualties. Report the accident by calling the emergency number. When calling be sure to specify what has happened, where, and how many casualties there are.

Call the emergency number 0800 0302 112 to report an accident!
